

I-305.15. Public Visibility Committee Bylaw

The IEEE Public Visibility Committee shall be appointed by and report to the IEEE Board of Directors. The Public Visibility Committee shall be responsible for the public visibility initiative, related communications and other activities focused on increasing public understanding of how engineering, computing and technology benefit humanity, and to promote the visibility of engineering, computing and IEEE technical professionals who carry out this work.

Membership. The IEEE Public Visibility Committee shall consist of not more than six voting members, including the Chair, all of whom shall be appointed by the IEEE Board of Directors. Members shall serve two-year staggered terms with reappointment permissible for one additional term. The Chair, who should have recent experience on the Committee, shall be selected from among the Committee members and shall serve a one-year term in that position with reappointment permissible for one additional term. In view of the expertise required, non-members of IEEE shall be eligible for appointment as voting members of this Committee. Members shall have knowledge of, or experience in public visibility initiatives or corporate communication programs.
